In accordance with the provisions of the so-called "Consolidation Act" (Acts, 1919, chap. 350) certain of the functions of the former Bureau of Statistics were transferred on December 1, 1919, to the new Department of Labor and Industries. The specific provisions in the act having reference to the transfer of these functions appear in Section 69, as follows:

... All the rights, powers, duties and obligations of the said boards, commissions and offices, or of any member or official thereof, and those of the bureau of statistics, or the director thereof, with respect to collecting, arranging and publishing statistical information relative to the commercial and industrial condition of the people, and the productive industries of the commonwealth, usually designated as the statistics of labor and manufactures, and with respect to the establishment and maintenance of public employment offices and with respect to all other matters not otherwise provided for by this act, are hereby transferred to and shall hereafter be exercised and performed by the department of labor and industries, established by this act, which shall be the lawful successor of said boards, commissions, and offices and of said bureau of statistics, and the director thereof, with respect to the said rights, powers, duties and obligations. . . .

The DIVISION OF STATISTICS as now organized consists of four branches as outlined below.

Labor Statistics. Lester E. Archibald, Statistician.

For the collection and tabulation of statistical and other information relating to matters affecting labor and the condition of the working people, as well as questions of general economic and social interest.

Manufactures Statistics. Margaret Shea, Statistician.

For the collection and tabulation of statistics of manufactures and the preparation of an industrial directory.

Public Employment Offices. Roswell F. Phelps, Director.

There are three placement offices, located respectively at:

Boston, 8 Kneeland Street. G. Harry Dunderdale, Superintendent.

Springfield, cor. Water and Worthington Streets. Chester W. Allen, Superintendent.

Worcester, 48-52 Green Street. William A. Wilder, Superintendent.

Library. Helen G. Estey, Librarian.

For the answering of inquiries by members of the Department and the public, relative to the industrial and social welfare of the population.

The labor statistics collected by the Division are published in "Labor Bulletins", which are numbered consecutively as issued, and each number contains matter devoted to one subject. In addition to the Labor Bulletins quarterly reports relative to employment conditions in the Commonwealth are issued.

Statistics with reference to manufactures are published annually in a report entitled "Report on the Statistics of Manufactures". A directory of such establishments is also maintained in the office, and this directory is kept up to date by the addition of new establishments and the elimination of those which have gone out of existence.

The administration of the public employment offices and general supervision over the department library are also included as a part of the duties of the Director of the Division of Statistics.

NINETEENTH ANNUAL DIRECTORY OF LABOR ORGANIZATIONS
IN MASSACHUSETTS, 1920.

INTRODUCTION.

The matter presented herewith constitutes the Nineteenth Annual Directory of Labor Organizations in Massachusetts,<sup>1</sup> the first directory of this character having been published by this Bureau in August, 1902.

The present edition consists of four divisions, as follows:

(I.) "National and International Organizations," having one or more affiliated local unions in the United States (page 5);

(II.) "State, District, and Trades Councils," consisting of organizations composed of delegates from local organizations within a particular trade or group of trades, or within a definite district comprising more than a single city or town (page 9);

(III.) "Central Labor Unions and Local Councils," composed of delegates from local unions in the same locality (page 13);

(IV.) "Local Trade Unions," composed of wage-earners in a single locality directly associated in what may be called the "unit body" of organization (page 18).

Since issuing the Directory in 1919, careful records have been kept, as heretofore, of all changes in meeting places, secretaries, and other information pertinent to the subject. Schedules were sent in December, 1919, to all of the National and International Unions in the United States requesting a list of their affiliated locals in Massachusetts, together with the names and addresses of the respective local secretaries, and similar schedules were sent to all State, District, and Trades Councils and Central Labor Unions and Local Councils. The Department has been able, by these means, and also by a careful consideration of rosters issued by labor organizations and of newspaper clippings relative to organizations in the <sup>1</sup> Prior editions of the directory have been published in the Labor Bulletins as follows: No. 23 (August, 1902), No. 24 (November, 1902), No. 33 (September, 1904), No. 37 (September, 1905), No. 43 (September, 1906), No. 52 (September, 1907), No. 61 (September, 1908), No. 68 (October, 1909), No. 76 (September, 1910), No. 83 (September, 1911), No. 93 (August, 1912), No. 94 (March, 1913), No. 98 (March, 1914), No. 106 (April, 1915), No. 113 (March, 1916), No. 119 (March, 1917), No. 123 (April, 1918), No. 127 (May, 1919).

Commonwealth, to secure information with reference to the organization of new unions, the disbanding of those formerly existing, and changes in the data relative to organizations previously listed.

A schedule of inquiries, among which were certain inquiries which had special reference to this edition of the directory, was mailed on December 31, 1919, to each local union in Massachusetts known to be in existence.<sup>1</sup> Schedules were received by mail directly or were obtained by special agents of the Department from nearly all of the organizations listed in this edition. In the remaining cases, the desired information has been obtained from the secretary of the National or International organization with which the local organization is affiliated, or from some other reliable source.

Owing to the fact that the collection of returns and the preparation and printing of the directory have necessarily covered a period of several weeks, some changes have no doubt occurred since the information herein presented was obtained; consequently those who have occasion to consult this directory should bear this fact in mind. Local secretaries are urged to send notice of any change in the particulars published herein concerning the organizations with which they may be connected.

In the preparation of this edition of the directory the Department has been fortunate in securing the cordial co-operation of the labor officials with whom it has had occasion to communicate.

IV. LOCAL TRADE UNIONS.

In the following presentation appear the names of the local trade unions arranged alphabetically by cities and towns. Most of the local unions are affiliated with national federations, but a few are entirely independent of any other labor organization. The names of the central labor unions and councils are given in Division III of the directory immediately preceding this division. In every case where the information could be obtained, the following facts are given for each union: Name of union, place and time of meeting (where time of meeting is not given, union meets at 8 P.M. on week days and 2 P.M. on Sundays), name and address of secretary and business agent, or, lacking these addresses, the name and address of some other officer authorized to conduct correspondence for the local. Where a special address is not given for a business agent or secretary, he may be addressed at the place of meeting.
